To whom it may concern,

My name is Shayne Letain, a faculty instructor in Capilano University's IDEA School of Design. I'm writing this letter of recommendation for Cameron Skorulski.

For the past two years, Cameron has been a student in several of my illustration classes, completing nearly a dozen projects in that time. I've been pleased to observe the tremendous progress he's made in both his craft and conceptual development. That development is evident in the quality of the work he has produced in those classes. Cameron's work is always near the top of the class in both technique and concept. It's also evident in the range of project types at which Cameron has excelled – from editorial illustration to illustrated environments for animation.

But besides Cameron's skill development, I've been even more impressed to see Cameron's development as a person and as a class leader. Cameron's presence in the classroom has had a profound effect on his class cohort. His maturity and contributions to class discussion have been instrumental to the creation of a supportive classroom.

Cameron's hard work and dedication deserve recognition, and it is my pleasure to recommend him.

Sincerely

Shayne Letain
